Describe an example of mRNA editing that is critical to human health.

Are there known examples of mRNA editing in the organism you would like to work with? If none are found, what search was used?

Are there examples of non-standard codon usage in your ‘favorite’ organism? What is the organism and what are the examples, if any?