

Contents

Illustrations / viii

Acknowledgments / ix

INTRODUCTION: An Entertainment Century / 3

CHAPTER 1. Reflections on Wonderlands / 21

CHAPTER 2. Inventors and Entertainers: Aviation / 75

CHAPTER 3. Inventors and Entertainers: Movies / 131

CHAPTER 4. Surmountable Contradictions / 181

CHAPTER 5. Lines in the Sky / 221

CHAPTER 6. PAA and RKO: The Rio Connection / 259

CHAPTER 7. Musical Fantasies, Political Realities / 303

EPILOGUE: Movies, Airplanes, and Touristic Urges / 343

Notes / 357

Bibliography / 369

Index / 375

Illustrations

- “Seeing the world” at the 1904 St. Louis World’s Fair / 30
- Igorot tribespeople arrive at the fair / 66
- Posing for photographs with the “natives” / 67
- Aviation pioneer Alberto Santos-Dumont / 82
- Thomas Scott Baldwin’s dirigible, the California Arrow / 85
- French pilot Louis Blériot / 100
- Californians seeing their first airplanes in 1910 / 116
- Early wing-walking stunts / 119
- Rides for paying passengers in these open-cockpit biplanes / 124
- Aerial photographers find a new forum
    in aviation action films / 195
- Advertisement for short-lived Ryan Airline / 211
- Spectators watching Charles Lindbergh in action / 216
- St. Louis gives Lindbergh a hero’s welcome / 217
- Pan Am’s poster entices tourists to visit Cuba / 240
- Lindbergh with Pan Am principal Juan Trippe / 245
- Pan Am’s Clipper over Miami / 253
- President Franklin D. Roosevelt, an advocate of tourism / 300
- Stalwart first lady and frequent flier, Eleanor Roosevelt / 318