

Contents

Acknowledgments VII

Introduction 3

CHAPTERS

- 1 “A Change Gonna Come”: Jim Crow Challenges during the Depression and World War, 1929–43 13
 - 2 “Almost the Law”: Black Police and the Ordeal of Jim Crow Policing in Postwar Houston, 1944–59 37
 - 3 Circling the Wagons: Police Department Retrenchment in a Time of Social Change, 1960–73 62
 - 4 “What a Mess We Have Here”: Chaos with the Breakdown of Leadership in the Police Department, 1973–78 94
 - 5 The Storm Clouds of Change: The Death of José Campos Torres and the Emergence of Triracial Politics in Houston, 1978–80 110
 - 6 Calming the Raging Sea: Katherine J. Whitmire, Lee P. Brown, and the High Tide of Change for the Police Department, 1981–90 130
- Conclusion 150

Notes 153

Bibliography 179

Index 199