

CONTENTS

---

---

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	3
1. The Hacienda in History and Memory	21
2. Remembering the Hacienda Land and Community in Californio Narrative	49
3. History and Memory in Jovita González and Eve Raleigh's Caballero: A Historical Novel	93
4. Ghosts of Old California The Performances of Leo Carrillo	114
5. Heroes and Orphans of the Hacienda Testimonial Memory as     Resistance and Repression in     Francisco Róbles Pérez's     "Memorias"	147
Conclusion	194
Notes	205
Works Cited	231
Index	245

ILLUSTRATIONS

---

- My grandfather, Aunt Esther, and myself in Zacatecas, 1990
23
- Portrait of Francisco Pacheco*, Californio rancher, 1852
54
- Portrait of Feliciano Estrada Pacheco*, wife of Francisco Pacheco, 1852
55
- Mariano Guadalupe Vallejo, ca. 1850s
57
- Ranch house at Vallejo's Petaluma hacienda
62
- Lithograph of Vallejo's ranch at Sonoma, 1840s
73
- Vallejo with his niece Carmelita Kune, 1887
76
- Jovita González, San Antonio, Texas, 1934
97
- Leo Carrillo and daughter Antoinette in parade regalia, ca. 1930s
118
- Carrillo on movie set, ca. 1930s
121
- Carrillo's studio portrait, 1930s
133
- Carrillo at Rancho de los Kiotes, ca. 1930s
134
- The Pérez family tree
149
- The Róbles family tree
150
- Francisco Róbles Pérez with his two eldest children, 1931
158
- Juan Lira Pérez with two of his sons, 1912
175
- Francisco Róbles Pérez, 1970s
196