

Contents

	List of Illustrations	ix
	Foreword	xi
	Preface	xiii
	Acknowledgments	xvii
1	The Eve of World War II	1
2	The Enemy at the Doorstep	16
3	Flying Before the Storm	35
4	The Japanese in the Southern Solomons, May–August 1942	54
5	Preparing for Battle	83
6	The Early Air War	98
7	Day One, Guadalcanal	113
8	Day One: Tulagi, Gavutu, and Tanambogo	123
9	Day Two: Tulagi, Gavutu, and Tanambogo	164
10	Guadalcanal: Hanging On	186
11	Bloody September	219
12	Black October	248
13	A River Too Far	294
14	War in the Outer Islands	313
15	The U.S. Army Takes Over	342
16	The Ke-go Operation	384
	Epilogue	402
	Appendix 1 Telegram to U.S. Navy Forces, 4 August 1942	405
	Appendix 2 Japanese Naval Forces in the Southern Solomons	407
	Appendix 3 The Japanese 2nd Infantry Division	413
	Appendix 4 The Japanese Seventeenth Army Group	419
	Notes	421
	Glossary	455
	Bibliography	471
	Special Acknowledgments	483
	Index	491

Illustrations

- 1 Map of the British Solomon Islands Protectorate, 1925 2
- 2 The Resident Commissioner's house and office—the Residency 3
- 3 The future RAAF advanced operational base, December 1940 10
- 4 Gavutu Island, February 1942 12
- 5 The SS Morinda 19
- 6 Solomon Islands residents meet with district officer on Gizo Island 20
- 7 Headquarters command staff, 3rd Kure Special Naval Landing Force 55
- 8 Sp. Lt. (jg) Kakichi Yoshimoto, 1941 59
- 9 Island landing by Imperial Japanese Navy troops 61
- 10 Two Japanese Kawanishi “Mavis” flying boats 63
- 11 Map of troop dispositions, Tulagi Island, May 1942 66
- 12 Map of Japanese troop and defensive dispositions, Guadalcanal Island,
July 1942 72
- 13 Yokohama Air Group Floatplane Fighter Unit, at Florida Island, July 1942 79
- 14 Shigeta platoon, Kure 3rd Special Naval Landing Force, February 1942 81
- 15 Map of principal geographic locations, north coast, Guadalcanal Island 114
- 16 Australian Imperial Forces on Hill 148, Gavutu, March 1942 125
- 17 1st Raider Battalion's advance, Tulagi Island, 7 August 1942 126
- 18 Map of Tulagi town, by Lt. Henry E. Josselyn, RANV 128
- 19 “Tulagi Pass” short-cut dividing Tulagi Island 138
- 20 U.S. Marine Corps paratroops 145
- 21 The causeway linking Tanambogo and Gavutu Islands 149
- 22 Gavutu Island water tower where Japanese sharpshooters were located 161
- 23 3rd Platoon, Company A, 2nd Pioneer Battalion 168
- 24 U.S. Marine and Navy cemetery, WHITE BEACH, Gavutu Island 182
- 25 Captured Japanese radio transmitter station 187
- 26 Maj. Edward W. Snedeker, USMC, Guadalcanal, D + 2 188
- 27 ORANGE airstrip, Guadalcanal 200
- 28 Japanese “sun disk” flag from ORANGE airstrip 201
- 29 Maj. Gen. Kiyotake Kawaguchi and staff, 35th Brigade 215
- 30 6th Naval Construction Battalion, Guadalcanal 220
- 31 PO2c Sankichi Kaneda, selected to lead the 124th Infantry for the September 1942 attack 225
- 32 1st Lt. Akio Tani (Pistol Pete) 236
- 33 Japanese soldiers of the 35th Brigade 250

- 34 Martin Clemens's scouts, Guadalcanal 273
- 35 Japanese tanks, Matanikau River, Guadalcanal 278
- 36 Captured Japanese map, Guadalcanal Island 296
- 37 Lt. Cdr. Riichiro Sato, Yokohama Air Group Florida Air Unit 314
- 38 WO Tokuchiyo Hirahashi, Yokohama Air Group Florida Air Unit 320
- 39 The Muranaka platoon, 3rd Company, Kure 3rd Special Naval Landing
Force 326
- 40 Map of the American plan of attack on Cape Astrolabe, Malaita Island 333
- 41 Staff of D-2 Section, 1st Marine Division 347
- 42 Maj. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift and Maj. Gen. A. M. Patch, Guadalcanal,
December 1942 348
- 43 Removing a casualty from Mount Austen, Guadalcanal 353
- 44 Japanese bunker fire-point, Hill 27, Mount Austen, Guadalcanal 370